What Tilden's Secretary says about it

New York Feb [illegible]—Tilden's secretary in [illegible] regarding the report of the approaching marriage of Tilden to Miss Ranck of Lewisburg. Mr Tilden says that the report is true as about nine tenths of the statements concerning him are daily published—that is, not at all. He presumes that the authors of the rumor have acted on the maxim of jurisprudence that what ought to have been done is in fact done. Unfortunately he never had the pleasure of knowing of the existence of any such lady

Executive Nominations.

Fight with Indians

Fort Buford D T Feb 3—On the 28th January the Uncapapa Indians raided a Grosventre camp and captured a number of ponies. The next day a war party of Gros ventres after riding 40 miles attacked the marauders. The battle was fierce and bloody. Fifteen Indians were killed and the stock recaptured

A Big Strike near Denver

There is a great excitement in Denver over a new discovery of gold near the mouth of the canyon of the Platte a mile from the South Park railroad, and 20 miles west of Denver. A vein of mineral was struck in the Dolly Varden mine at a depth of 20 feet on last Friday, and a specimen brought to Denver and an assay obtained on Saturday. The assay giving the value of the ore at $21,109 per ton $20 176 of it being gold. A publication of the facts was made in one of the papers Sunday morning and before night a hundred people were on the spot. Up to the present date 500 visited the place and 200 locations were made

A Hospital and Several of its Inmates Burned.

Milwaukee, Feb 3—The county hospital burned this morning. Thirty were carried out and others made their own escape. Two bodies have been recovered. The walls partially fell in and it is thought that several bodies are yet among the ruins.

It is now known that all but two inmates of the hospital were rescued. Mrs Christine Nelson a feeble minded woman 90 years of age and Fred Schouffan, an insane man, were awakened and came into the hall but instead of following the others into the open air probably returned to their rooms and perished in the flames

A Novel Method of Suicide.

Newark N J Feb 3—Charles Decker proprietor of a hardware store, last night took a large hollow block of iron and converted it into a cannon filling it with powder and lead. He then placed it under his chin and set fire to the powder. The room in which the tragedy occurred presented a most sickening sight

RAILROAD WAR SETTLED.

Terms of a Compromise between the D. & R. G. R. R. and other Southwestern Companies.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

New York Feb 3—The U S supreme court decision in the Denver & Rio Grande railroad petition for mandamus is said by well informed parties to be of no particular importance now since the Rio Grande and Atchison companies arranged all their differences on Saturday and stipulated that the decision should not affect the settlement one way or the other. The arrangement is understood to be substantially as follows

All litigation is to cease the Rio Grande taking back its constructed road re-exchanging stocks with the Pueblo & Arkansas Valley road abandoning its Pueblo & St Louis road and also its New Mexican extension about 30 miles north of Santa Fe and taking immediate possession of the line to Leadville paying therefor the original cost less the expenses of litigation and a bonus of $400 000. Leadville and other southern traffic over the D & R G to eastern points to go half over the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe line and half over the Union Pacific and one third of the traffic between Denver and Eastern points is to go via the Pueblo & Atchison line. The A T & S F Co agree not to build to Leadville or Denver or to any point on or west of the main line of the D & R G from Denver to Elmoro but to stop at Pueblo. The contract is to last ten years. The Atchison to reserve the right to build a line of about 3 miles to their coal mines to be used for coal trains only for their railroad [illegible] the Arkansas valley. The lease is to be terminated immediately. [illegible] entered forthwith to protect the [illegible] under which the Atchison company will have the right to run their own trains over the D & R G [illegible] in case the New Mexican [illegible] line of the Rio Grande [illegible] cut off from their share of the Leadville [illegible] Denver traffic with eastern points. The contract establishes peace for [illegible] years and is generally considered beneficial to all concerned

The Railroad Settlement

Denver Feb [illegible]—Referring to the recent agreement between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and Denver and Rio Grande to [illegible] the Rio Grande officials here state that they will push their extension from the Grand Canyon up the Arkansas to Leadville with all possible speed. Decision by the Supreme Court

In the supreme court to day the following decision was announced: The Colorado Central Railroad Company plaintiff in error vs A A White, administrator etc in error to the U S circuit court for the district of Colorado. The writ of error was dismissed with costs. Opinion by the chief justice

The Election Frauds Committee

Senators Wallace, McDonald, Garland, Hoar and Blaine will go to New York on Thursday as a sub committee of the senate select committee formerly the Teller committee appointed to enquire into alleged frauds in the late elections. It is understood that this renewed enquiry will be directed towards the operations of Chief Supervisor John I Davenport.

Confirmations by the Senate

The senate has confirmed the nomination of Jackson Ferguson to be superintendent of the census district of Nevada. DeForest Porter associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona. John Cook, Indian agent at the Rosebud agency. Milo Boynton agent at the Maguish Pueblo agency Arizona

Census Supervisors.

Nominations of census supervisors were confirmed to day. About 60 of the total 150 went through without debate. The remainder are yet to be reported from the census committee and there are indications that most of them will be held for some time to enforce a more equitable political division.

LONG-SUFFERING WHITES

How the Border Settlers of Colorado are Wronged and Insulted by the Utes

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Washington Feb 4—Yesterday Senator Teller, Governor Pitkin, and state Senator Peck of Colorado called upon Gen Sherman and the secretary of war and laid before them a petition from citizens of Ouray, Dallas and other towns in Colorado asking military protection from Indians. The signers of the petition represent about 5000 families who are in a very embarrassing and alarming situation. Hostile Ute Indians are encamped between them and civilization and will not permit the passage of any wagons containing supplies. Food in these towns is becoming scarce and unless relief and protection is at once sent they will perish from hunger or if they attempt to pass the hostile camps are in danger of their lives. While these white people are suffering for food they complain that the hostile Indians are being well fed by the government, and that, not satisfied with this they seize and appropriate everything in the way of food sent to the settlements. These petitions, which set forth at length and in detail this wretched condition were sent to Governor Pitkin at Denver and forwarded to him here. Secretary Ramsey and Gen Sherman both expressed great anxiety to do something to aid these people but they could not send any soldiers there, as it would be considered a violation of the status quo understanding which Schurz has with the Indians. Gen Sherman said that if he could have his say about it troops should go right in there but he is held back and the only person who could give relief was the president. Some gentlemen with the rest of the Colorado delegation have an appointment with the president and will make an appeal to him to day

The President Makes Good Promises.

The Colorado delegation in congress and Gov Pitkin called on the president this morning, and represented the defenceless condition of the frontier settlements of Colorado. The president in reply gave assurances that steps would be taken to protect them promptly in case an emergency arises. He will confer with the secretary of the interior and Gen Sherman on the subject

Adoption of the Davis Resolution—The [illegible] Work [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] be committee on appropriations will doubtless [illegible] control of all the regular appropriation bills except the river and harbor bill [illegible] department. The tendency to day [illegible] makes it very probable however that the committee on appropriations will [illegible] of its present power to engraft general legislation on appropriation bills and be no longer permitted [illegible] to usurp the jurisdiction [illegible] the discretion and the work of the other committees

A very noticeable feature of to day's proceedings was that the house refused by a majority of nearly two against one to adopt the amendments offered by Cox and Clymer to prohibit the passage of any river and harbor bill under a suspension of rules as has been the custom for a number of years without debate or opportunity for amendment

Morton's Chance

In consequence of the receipt of the [illegible] resolutions of respect to the memory of Congressman Clark the senate adjourned without holding an executive session this afternoon and therefore the Morton case still awaits discussion and final action. Assistant Postmaster General Tyner and Postmaster Holloway of Indianapolis expecting that the matter would come up to day were on hand at the capital early and the first on the floor of the senate and the latter in the lobby were actively engaged until the eulogies commenced in soliciting republican senators to vote for Morton's confirmation. Senator Voorhees also continued his personal efforts in behalf of Morton among democratic senators and Morton's friends are sanguine of success, but from the standpoint of disinterested opinion the chances seem to be decidedly against his confirmation

AN INTERESTING CASE.

Showing the Relations of Southern Courts During the War to U S Troops.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Washington Feb 3—A decision in the following case was announced by the supreme court to day

Neal Dow plaintiff in error, vs Braflish Johnson in error to circuit court of the United States for the district of Maine. This is an appeal from a judgment of the circuit court awarding defendant in error the sum of [illegible] in satisfaction of a judgment obtained by him against Dow in the sixth district court of New Orleans on the 9th of April 1863. At the outbreak of the late war Johnson was the owner of a plantation on the Mississippi river forty three miles above New Orleans. In 1863 after the capture of New Orleans by federal troops certain property of Johnson including twenty five hogsheads of sugar and some table silver was taken from his plantation for the use of the United States army by federal soldiers acting under orders from Brig Gen Neal Dow [illegible] plaintiff in error. Johnson brought suit in the state court to recover the value of the confiscated property. Gen Dow did not appear to answer and judgment went against him by default. Johnson then brought suit in the United States circuit court district of Maine to recover the amount of this judgment with costs. In this suit he was successful whereupon Gen Dow brought the case here upon a writ of error. This court holds that an officer or soldier of the army of the United States whilst in service during the late war in the country which acknowledged the authority of the confederate government that is in the enemy's country was not liable to civil action in a court of that country for injury resulting from acts of war ordered by him in his military character, or can he be called upon to justify or explain his military conduct in a civil tribunal upon any allegation of the injured party that the acts complained of were not justified by the necessities of war. A federal officer in the enemy's country is amenable only to his own government and laws administered by its authority. A resident of the enemy's country whose property is taken by order of a federal officer must appeal to the military commander or if war is over to the government and has no other means of redress. The state courts which are allowed by the army of occupation to continue in existence for the benefit of the inhabitants of that country and not for the control of the army or its officers and soldiers. From this principle it follows that the Louisiana court had no jurisdiction over Gen Dow and that the present suit cannot be maintained. Judgment is reversed with costs and the cause is remanded with directions to enter final judgment for defendant on demurrer to replication. Justice Field delivered the opinion. Justices Clifford and Miller dissenting.

The following order was announced by the court: That in all cases decided prior to the first day of January where a petition for rehearing is pending the mandate may issue after this date when applied for

MAGAZINES FOR FEBRUARY

[illegible] of the Overland Monthly [illegible] Pacific coast has been [illegible] writers with one [illegible] taste [illegible] the unfortunate connection with a failing publishing house involving it in a disaster which it had no part in causing has long figured as an inducement to a new enterprise of the same kind which might be started under more favorable auspices. The Californian just established by the A R[illegible] Publishing Company, is such an enterprise and if it maintains the character promised by the numbers already out will recover to the Pacific coast that proud eminence in literature which it formerly held. The Californian is distinctly the product of western men and thought as the Atlantic is of Boston's culture and vanity. It has the freshness of new life, the vigor of the west and the culture of the eastern literary press, with less of stiffness and more of originality. Its regular form is a hundred page pamphlet in brown covers, well printed on good paper and without illustrations. The February number just received covers a wide range of research and thought. Its contents are "Sand" (chapter 2) by J W Gally; "Washington Territory," by James Wyatt Oates; "How Gardens Grow in California," by Josephine Clifford; "Pre Historic Treasure," by B B Redding; "Frankonia" and "My Rosary" (poems) by Kate M Bishop; "The Seven Cities of Cibola," by T. H Hittell; "A Plattdeutsch Chat" by T H Rearden; "The Solid South and the Bloody Shirt" by A Young Southerner; "A Clerical Tramp" by Margaret Collier Graham; "A Defence of Dancing" by Bashi Bazouk; "In the Lava Beds" by Wm M Bunker; "Is [illegible] Poets—Percival and Neil" by John Vance Cheney; "Hoodlums on a Hop Ranch" by [illegible]; "Arts Ideals" (poem) by Edgar Fawcett; "Book Reviews" by E R Hill and F H Tay[illegible]; and an interesting editorial miscellany. Published by the A Roman publishing company 611 California street San Francisco at $4 per year

Scribner for February comes labeled mid winter number and bears upon its cover two new [illegible] except for their [illegible] Its contents are not truthful to this [illegible] unless it is considered that [illegible] are appropriate on the same [illegible] another [illegible] that frozen cream is [illegible] in August and hot whisky is comforting in December. The first article is "A Wheel Around the Hub" by Chas E Pratt being a humorous report of an excursion of several bicycle clubs around Boston and its little neighbors. It is illustrated by three score or more wood cuts representing the haps and mishaps of the wheel and is altogether breezy and funny. The most timely and valuable paper is by Francis R Upton (Mr Edison's mathematician) on Edison's electric light, which is shown by a fac simile note from the inventor to be the first correct and authoritative account of the new light. It is a plain popular description of the invention at its present development and of what it is expected to be, and so illustrated by drawings as to be easily understood. The opening chapters of "Louisiana" an American story by Frances Hodgson Burnett author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," "Haworth's" and other stories are given. Three characters are developed in the five chapters presented so contrasted as to charm the lover of types, so connected as to engage the most active interest. Eugene Schuyler contributes the opening chapters of a series on Peter the Great being the story of the life and reign of that great monarch. It is finely illustrated and promises to be of real value. A somewhat pointless article on "New England Fences" serves as a subject for several bright landscape sketches. The edition is remarkable for the number and artistic excellence of its illustrations, the finest being a full page frontispiece of Peter the Great. Other interesting features are "The Present Phases of Sunday School Work" by Edward Eggleston, an illustrated chapter describing a southern strawberry farm, one of Mr Roe's series on Small Fruits and a biographical sketch of John Bright (with portrait). Other minor articles with the usual editorial departments complete the number and make it one of unusual interest. Published by Scribner & Co 743 Broadway N Y at $4 per year

The Daily Oregonian.
WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB 4, 1880.

TWENTIETH YEAR.

Nineteen years ago this day the first issue of THE DAILY OREGONIAN appeared. The directory of that year gave the population of the city at 2910. Though its present population is above 20,000, the growth of the city and extension of its business have not, it is believed, outstripped in any respect or direction the progress of THE OREGONIAN. The first number of the paper appeared as a five column sheet. Its matter was all in the large type known as long primer. It contained almost no advertisements. During the whole of the first year, and perhaps for a much longer time, its entire advertising business did not yield a sum which would now suffice to pay its postage. There was no telegraphic and little local news. In the issue of February 4th the latest news date was "St. Louis, January 11." This news was received by telegraph from St Louis at Fort Kearney, then the western point of telegraphic extension, and forwarded to the Pacific coast by pony express. It told of the gathering storm of civil war. The steamer Star of the West had been sent to the relief of Fort Sumter. The New York legislature had passed, almost with unanimity, a resolution denouncing the hostile proceedings of the southern states as a declaration of war. Mayor Wood of New York had recommended in his message the secession of the city from the state, as a movement in sympathy with the south. Toombs had just made in the senate one of the most insulting and bitter of his secession speeches. The secession convention of Mississippi was in session. Other details, similar in purport, brought by steamer which had just arrived from San Francisco, were reported. Then there was no further news from the east till the arrival of the next steamer, sixteen days later. To publish a daily paper under such conditions was a matter of no little difficulty. Yet at the time, there were three other daily papers in the city, each of which appeared to have better chance for life than THE OREGONIAN. But in the business management of THE OREGONIAN there was a skillful, persevering and untiring energy, which has continued unto this day. Either one of its early competitors would have succeeded and beaten it had either one of them been under the business management of HENRY L. PITTOCK, by whom THE OREGONIAN was carried through the many struggles that beset its early existence, and to whom it is due that it was not long ago lost in the same gulf which has swallowed up the many newspapers that have been launched with high hopes here.

Until a telegraph line was built through to California and then completed to Oregon, THE OREGONIAN had to wait long. But it struggled on, and slowly gained ground. Realizing that the great thing to be gained was news, the manager took the earliest possible means of availing himself of the telegraph. When the line had been completed as far north as Yreka, dispatches were ordered for THE OREGONIAN, and were brought through from there by mail. A daily stage line had then just been established. Soon as the line was finished to Portland the news reports were taken here. Since then THE OREGONIAN has continued to be the principal medium of news for the Pacific northwest. With an enterprise which has always kept pace with the ability of the country to sustain a newspaper, it has steadily increased its expenditures not only for news by telegraph but for service of every kind. It now begins its twentieth year, incomparably a stronger and more complete newspaper than at any former time in its history. Being the only real newspaper of the northwest, it is the only one that is sought by the public, and therefore [illegible] more readers than all others combined [illegible] in the sphere of its circulation. [illegible] and weekly issues, though large [illegible] past, never were so large by a total of many thousand copies, as during the last few months. The country is receiving a new impulse [illegible] and growth, and THE OREGONIAN, [illegible] it as on every occasion heretofore, has increased its news facilities and its service and expenditures in all departments to correspond with the new requirements.

Our news arrangements have recently been extended so as to increase greatly the quantity and variety of the telegraphic reports. The general news report has been doubled, and will be maintained at its present point of fullness and efficiency; while our telegraphic commercial reports, which heretofore have been unsatisfactory to us, as not answering our conception of the public demand, are now the best that money can obtain, and we feel confident will fully satisfy those who desire a journal to which they can look with confidence for full reports in this as in all other important lines of news. We now have full commercial reports, including quotations of California, eastern and foreign markets, through two independent sources; and every day all commercial intelligence of the preceding day will appear in THE OREGONIAN. Our own reports, furnished through the associated press, are supplemented by those of the Gold and Stock Company, furnished through the Merchant's Exchange. Facilities heretofore unequalled are thus afforded in this important line of news. To fill its conception of the growing wants of the country for a newspaper complete in all departments, THE OREGONIAN at the beginning of the present year undertook improvements which add not less than one thousand dollars a month to its previous expenditures; and this not only will be maintained, but will be further increased, to meet the surely growing demand for further improvement.

So rapidly has our circulation grown that the printing machinery heretofore used has for some time been unable to do our work promptly, and we have therefore ordered a new press, of double the capacity of the fastest one we now use. This machine is now being built by R. Hoe & Co., of New York, and will be shipped for Portland on the O. S. S. Co.'s steamer Columbia, to sail from New York on the first of April. When this press arrives we shall be able both to hold our columns open for news to a later hour each morning, and also to deliver the paper earlier to city subscribers. This will much increase the acceptability of THE OREGONIAN to readers both within and without the city.

After a career of nineteen years, during which it has struggled up from small beginnings and through difficulties which have engulfed many competitors, THE OREGONIAN is beginning to reach a position which has long been the aim and ideal of its proprietors. Its object is to be the best possible newspaper which the country can sustain; to be distinctively the newspaper of Oregon and Washington; to have no ends or purposes outside of its own mission as a faithful public journal; to maintain a manly independence and spirit of fairness; to report local, general, commercial and all other news with fullness and accuracy; to encourage and aid the development of the country; to disseminate sound opinions; to support public morality, and, in a word, to be what a newspaper ought to be which aims to fill the first place in the wants of an intelligent, moral, active and growing community.

A THIRD TERM APO

Ex-Senator Howe of Wisconsin, one of the administration "senatorial group" of American Review a tion, finds in the all heard against what means of making [illegible] as the "senseless [illegible] position to the third term clamor" in [illegible] for its disclosure of the His article the Grant party prior to 1876, purpose a confession that they had in view since nomination of Grant at that time. On the 15th December, 1875, a resolution was adopted by the house of representatives declaring against any departure from the time-honored custom which limited any occupant of the presidential office to two terms. Two hundred and thirty-three votes were recorded in favor of this resolution and but eighteen against it. With a touch of bitterness Howe says: "The reiterated vociferation accomplished the purpose for which it was intended. It defeated the renomination of General Grant in 1876." So it did. And this retired member of the old "senatorial group" is strangely mistaken if he supposes that it will not again defeat his renomination in 1880. Quite noticeable for partisan enthusiasm, touched with partisan rancor, is his method of taunting the republicans of the country with a want of courage and fidelity in not accepting Grant again. "A political party," he says, "must be brave and conscientious before it will venture to stake its hopes of the post-offices upon the re-election of a president who has been fired at by millions of his countrymen for four years, and lied at by more millions for eight years." This is the utterance of a partisan bigotry which is unable to see the real objection to breaking the precedent. The objection is not a sentimental prejudice but an attachment to a well-established custom which there is no occasion to violate. Washington, the ex-senator says, declined a third-term because he wanted rest; Jefferson because he couldn't hope for the further support of his party, and Jackson because he preferred to pass the honor over to Van Buren. And it is observed that it is not easy to see why the fact that former presidents didn't want a third term or couldn't get it, should debar one who does want it. This is not an argument to help the case. If any citizen desires the presidency beyond two terms, that is really a reason in the public mind why he should not have it. Mr. Howe argues throughout his article as if Grant's administration had been acceptable to the country and wholly perfect. Indeed he assumes this, as if it were beyond question. But the fact is that no small part of the opposition to restoration of Grant now comes from the remembrance that the surroundings of his administration were of a sort which large numbers of his party think it would be undesirable to restore and perpetuate. Many people who feel kindly towards Gen. Grant as the leader of the national armies in the great war will as yet keep silent in regard to his last term and their apprehensions of his next; but should there be a serious attempt to force his nomination they will be heard from in a way that will startle "boomers" like Mr. Howe.

PORTLAND'S POSITION.

It is probable that it does journals of a class of which the Walla Walla Statesman may be taken as a representative, much good to rail at Portland because it is the largest town in the northwest, and because a large part of the trade of Oregon and Washington centers here. "Portland," says the Statesman, "not content with being the metropolis of Oregon, endeavors to grasp the whole interior and make all the vast country lying beyond pay tribute to her." Again, "We enter our solemn protest against making said metropolis even a way port for the transportation of our produce to the seaboard." And more to the same effect. Perhaps it would be well to consider the facts. Portland has grown to its present importance because it has been so situated as to be able to do the business of the country. It holds its preeminence because of its facilities for doing the business of the country through capital concentrated here, through routes of transportation converging here, and through adjustment of business throughout the country to business here. The growth of Portland, therefore, has been an entirely simple and natural result. "Protests" against that growth will not arrest it. Here is a central position for business, and hither business is naturally drawn. Perhaps the trouble with those journals which carp at Portland so much is that no one of them desires to see here or elsewhere a town of more importance than its own. If Portland can develop facilities for doing the business of the "whole interior," as undoubtedly she will under arrangements now in progress, it will be quite idle for anybody to complain about it. Trade rigorously follows its own laws. Portland capital is now taking the lead in the development of country. Naturally it will make Portland the depot of the trade which it develops or accommodates. But "the God of nature," we are told, "never intended Portland to be anything but a small business center." Then it will not be, and it is useless to worry about it. But after a good deal of observation on the subject we have learned to doubt very seriously the authority of those who so freely take it upon themselves to declare in so many matters the "intentions of the God of nature." It is wise usually not to base much on assumptions of this kind.

The United States is not by any means the only country in the world that has experienced an augmented movement of silver during the past year. Within that time the exports of this metal to Japan, China, India and the straits have been as follows: From Southampton, $33,000,000; Marseilles and Venice, $5,000,000; San Francisco, $8,000,000. Total, $46,000,000 as against $39,000,000 in 1878. The quantity of silver which India, China and Japan have been absorbing for many years is really astonishing. Great as the quantity is which they take in, they give none back.

The New York Tribune almanac for 1880 is out. This publication is the politician's favorite statistical text book and standard authority on past elections. The present issue has been compiled by the Hon. Edward McPherson, a statistician of national reputation, who has conducted the series for several years. The price remains as before—25 cents for each copy.

The Princess Winnemucca is lecturing in the eastern states on the sorrows of the Indians. After telling an audience of the wrongs that the white man had done by introducing fire water among her people, she proceeded to prove the statement by getting hilariously drunk.

ANOTHER SUFFERER
Snatched from the Grave.

I THINK IT MY DUTY TO SUFFERING HUmanity to make the following statement: My wife's sufferings were unbearable, doctoring all the time, still she grew worse and weaker every day till she was a mere skeleton. As a last and only resort, I was advised to consult DR. VAN DEN BERGH, sr. I must say I had but little faith in her ever getting relief. The Doctor made a very thorough examination, he said it was possible to effect a cure in three months. He stated worms were the cause of the gnawing sensation and the great distress and pain in her stomach; also the female and nervous debility and all other miseries. After taking his medicine for about ten days she commenced getting better and kept on getting better and gaining strength and 16 pounds of solid flesh during the treatment. Thanks to the Doctor for saving my wife from an early grave and my little children from being motherless. For any further information inquire at my residence and see my wife herself. No. 66 South Fifth and Sherman streets.

REMOVAL OF A GRAVEL
The Size of a Walnut Without the Loss of a Single Drop of Blood.

After doctoring for seven long years with many doctors and surgeons, and suffering during all that time the greatest pain and agony, no rest day or night, I consulted DR. VAN DEN BERGH, of 212 First street, Portland. He said operation was out of the question, as he would remove the stone, which was the size of a walnut, by drilling. The first drilling lasted five hours and brought one half of the stone away in small gravel and sand, and not a single drop of blood, which gave a great deal of relief. The following week, after two and a half hours of skillful drilling the doctor ground the remainder of the stone also in fine gravel and sand without the loss of a single drop of blood, and thanks to the doctor's skillful treatment I am cured of the most agonizing and painful malady known to the medical profession. For further information call at my place on Sauvie's Island, Willamette Slough. THOMAS WILSON.

WEDNESDAY MORNING FEB 4 1880

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON Feb 4—12 30 A M —Pacific coast ng is clear or partly cloudy

CITY.

FU ES I ESES ARRESTED —The ORE N as published Monday morning an account of the flight of a young man named Thomas Paul from the Day's ho house on the Calapooia in Douglas Co where he had been teaching Paul had been charged with robbing Wells Fargo & Co's express in Northern California some time since The company's special detective Mr J B Hume who arrived on the Oregon on the 31st ult has shadowed Paul and arrested him Monday at Myrtle Creek 17 miles beyond Roseburg Douglas Co Mr Hume arrived here last night with his prisoner who he will take to San Francisco on the next steamer Gov Thayer yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Paul upon a requisition from Gov H Perkins of California Mr Hume being appointed state agent

AN ACCIDENTAL OVERDOSE A few days since an item appeared in the papers to the effect that Mr H T Collins of Oregon City had taken a dose of laudanum with suicidal intent and that his life was rescued only by prompt medical assistance Mr Collins called on us yesterday and desired to have the statement corrected He says that he took a dose of the drug named for the purpose of quieting his nerves and getting to sleep By an accident he took too much and narrowly escaped dying It was purely accidental and he disavows any intention whatever to shuffle off this mortal coil

OLYMPIC CLUB ELECTION —The Olympic Club elected the following officers last night President, John Kelly vice president, W P Olds secretary Oscar Heintz treasurer F M DeWitt superintendent L Brenckle directors, A S Whiting and T S Carr The following resolution was unanimously adopted Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered to the retiring officers of this club for the able and efficient manner in which they have fulfilled the duties of their respective offices for the past year

NUPTIALS —Mr J Edward Tibbetts connected with the firm of Thompson DeHart & Co was married Monday evening to Miss Hattie M only daughter of Captain George A Pease. The ceremony took place at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev T L Eliot, and on account of the recent death of the bride's mother, was strictly private Mr and Mrs Tibbetts have the best wishes of a host of friends

THEIR DIPLOMA —The Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Co , received yesterday the diploma awarded to their splendid exhibit at the Paris exposition in 1878 The diploma is neatly framed, and with a similar recognition awarded by our own centennial exposition, is displayed in their show window appropriately supported by a set of very handsome raw silk furniture

NEW ENGINE —Messrs Fleischner, Mayer & Co have just placed in position in their store, a gas engine, to furnish the motive power for their elevator The machine is quite a novelty it being the second one of the kind ever brought to this city. Messrs Hodge, Davis & Co have a similar engine which has been working satisfactorily for the past two months.

WILLAMETTE ROWING CLUB —The annual meeting of the Willamette Rowing Club will be held Friday evening, Feb 6th, in the British Benevolent Society's room in the O S N Co's building. The meeting is for the purpose of hearing the reports of officers, the election of officers for the ensuing year and the consideration of general business

PROMOTED —Mr Thomas H Reynolds, who has been employed by the express company here for several years in the capacity of delivery clerk was recently promoted to the position of W F & Co's messenger on the west side road between Portland and Corvallis Tom is faithful and efficient and deserves the promotion

"HEALTH IN THE SCHOOLS."—This is the subject of a paper which will be read at the Unitarian chapel this (Wednesday) evening by Rev T L Eliot It promises to be very interesting, instructive and practical. All parents should feel a personal interest in the subject, and should not fail to attend the lecture

WARRANT OF ARREST — Governor Thayer received yesterday from Governor H C Perkins, of California, a requisition for the arrest of one Thomas Paul a fugitive from justice from that state charged with the crime of robbery, J B Hume being appointed state agent A warrant was at once issued for his arrest

OFFICES ESTABLISHED —Col. Dudley Evans manager of Wells, Fargo & Co's office in this city has just returned from up the west side road He has established offices at the following stations McCoy, Derry and Independence The establishment of these offices will be a great convenience to the public

PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION —The annual meeting of the directors and members of the Library Association of Portland, will take place on Saturday evening Feb 7th at 7 30 when the report of the Hon Matthew P Deady, president, will be read and other business of the society transacted

CONTEMPLATED BUILDING —We are informed by Messrs. Hodge, Davis & Co , that Mr S G Reed has in contemplation the erection of a two story brick block adjoining them on the north.

IMPROVING —The lad, Jesse Evans who fell from a barn a few days since and it was thought that he had sustained severe injuries, is reported to be rapidly improving

ROAD SUPERVISORS' REPORTS —The road supervisors of this county will make their annual report to the county commissioners court to-day

STEAMER OREGON —The steamer Oregon arrived at Astoria yesterday at 4 P. M She will sail for Portland at daylight this morning

PETITION IN CIRCULATION.

The following petition is in circulation, and is receiving the signatures of our best citizens It refers as will be seen to the vagrant and reform ordinances now pending for action before the common council this evening

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Portland Oregon, in Common Council assembled

GENTLEMEN—The undersigned citizens of the city of Portland respectfully call your attention to a bill No —, "For the suppression of prostitution within the city limits," and also to amend ordinance 2556 "Relating to loafing carrying concealed weapons and desecration of the Sabbath as reported from the committee on health and police, and which now awaits the final action of your honorable body

The evils this bill seeks to remedy are not imaginary They have long existed in open defiance of law and good order on the principal streets and in the most public thoroughfares of our city to the shame disgrace and great moral social and commercial damage of our community There is not a legitimate interest of trade a proper political social or moral compact or a literary scientific or humane society among us, but that will share in the benefits of the enforcement of such a law and we owe to ourselves as the present guardians of these interests to the twenty-five hundred children and youth now in the schools of our city to be educated by us and to the moral growth and welfare of our age and nation that these flagrant and continuous acts of immorality should be suppressed We therefore pray that the full text of this bill become a law without delay

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A MODEL HOTEL

A gentleman who has just arrived from a trip east brought with him a circular which he picked up in the dining room of the [illegible] at [illegible] River station in Wyoming territory The enterprising proprietor of that hotel who supports the significant cognomen of C W Kitchen had a lot of these circulars printed for gratuitous distribution along the road The [illegible] Portland and elsewhere [illegible] other [illegible] increase the [illegible] of their re[illegible] as follows

This hotel has been built and arranged for the [illegible] board [illegible] each guest will be asked how he [illegible] [illegible] it was the village that [illegible] immediately [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] gas water elevator [illegible] [illegible] telegraph [illegible] billiard table [illegible] [illegible] modern [illegible] in every room Meals [illegible] [illegible] table English French and German [illegible] [illegible] required every guest to make up such bill of fare as he may desire without regard to [illegible] a fair afterwards at the office Waiters if any [illegible] nality and color desired Every waiter [illegible] [illegible] suits all tablets and his hair [illegible] Every guest will have the best seat in the dining hall and the best waiter in the house

Any guest not getting his breakfast red hot or experiencing a delay of 15 seconds [illegible] der for dinner will please mention the fact at the office and the cooks and waiters will be blown from the mouth of the cannon in front of the hotel at once Children will be welcomed with [illegible] light and are requested to bring hoop sticks and new keys to bang the carved rosewood furniture especially provided for that purpose and peg tops to spin on the velvet carpets they will be allowed to bang on the piano at all hours yell in the halls slide down the banisters fall down stairs carry away dessert enough for a small family in their pockets at dinner and make themselves as disagreeable as the fondest mother can desire

Washing allowed in rooms and ladies giving an order to put me ons flat iron will be put on the at any hour of the day or night A discreet waiter who belongs to the Masons Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias and who was never known to even tell the time of day has been employed to carry milk punches and hot toddies to ladies rooms in the evening

Every lady will be considered the belle of the house and row boys will answer the bells promptly should any row boy fail to appear at a guest's door with a pitcher of ice water more towels a gin cocktail and pen ink and paper before the guest's hand has left the bell knob he will be branded Front on his forehead and imprisoned for life

The office clerk has been carefully selected to please everybody and can lead in prayer play draw poker match worsted at the village store shake for the drinks at any hour day or night play billiards good waltzer and can dance the German make a fourth at euchre amuse children repeat the Beecher trial from memory is a good judge of horses as a railway and steamboat referee is far superior to Appletons or any body else's guide will flirt with any young lady and not mind being cut dead when pa comes down Don't mind being dared any more than a Connecticut river can run forty people in the best room in the house when the hotel is full attend to the annunciator and answer questions in Hebrew Greek Choctaw, Irish or any other polite language at the same moment, without turning a hair

Dogs allowed in any room in the house including the w[illegible]ne room Gentlemen can drink smoke, swear chew gamble tell shady stories stare at the new arrivals and indulge in any other innocent amusements common to watering places in any part of the hotel The proprietor will always be happy to hear that some other hotel is the best house in the country Special attention given to parties who can give information as to how these things are done in Yewrop

The proprietor will take it as a personal affront if any guest on leaving should fail to dispute the bill tell him he is a swindler, the house a barn the table wretched, the wines vile and that he, the guest was never so imposed upon in his life will never stop there again and means to warn his friends."

DIPHTHERIA

PORTLAND Feb [illegible] 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

As there is no medical journal in this city to enlighten the people in a matter affecting the sanitary co[illegible] [illegible] not be uninteresting to [illegible] in regard to the [illegible] above [illegible] attention having been called [illegible] in an article [illegible] paper this morning

Diphtheria is [illegible] are should be taken to prevent its spread [illegible] There [illegible] treat[illegible] there [illegible] which has the same [illegible] over [illegible]

The [illegible] the best [illegible] of this truth

[illegible] for this [illegible] of the [illegible] sufficient [illegible] absolutely [illegible]

[illegible] known to those who have children that they may depend upon hygienic treatment and [illegible] upon medicines Not but that there are those [illegible] it is to be used as an adjunct to [illegible] and [illegible]

Every physician has experienced more difficulty in fighting the [illegible] of people than he has encountered in any disease

There is an old maxim which says that God and [illegible] diseases [illegible] that doctors give remedies [illegible] is expressed the idea in a few words

Many cases of diphtheria would recover which terminate fatally, if the sick were seen in time but the numberless cures which the papers publish and which kind but mistaken friends advise are exhausted in vain and when death has already thrown its mantle over the little victim the physician is sent for too late

I will not say anything about the legal responsibility attaching to those who undertake to treat these cases which baffle the most skillful physicians but call their attention to the moral responsibility which they assume under a false assumption of kindness to the sick and knowledge of this disease

The writer of this has practiced medicine for nearly thirty years and he does not hesitate to say that a large portion of the children whom he has seen die have died the victims of ignorance and cupidity on the part of friends and parents Yet, never in one single instance has he known a child to die under the care of a physician though death had already seized it that the responsibility was not put upon the doctor and none on those who were to blame

The best and cheapest way to do is to send for the intelligent physician early and then follow his advice This saves life and money this last being the consideration with many who are sick or who have sick families L

Columbia River Bar.

The subject is agitating the minds of the people of Oregon to a great extent and reminds one of the time when Capt Eads constructed the jetties in the Mississippi river But all these topics of the day are drowned in the shade since the introduction of the celebrated OREGON KIDNEY TEA The first case it has failed to cure in complaints of the kidneys and bladder is yet to be heard from

SPOOL COTTON

GEORGE A. CLARK,
SOLE AGENT

The distinctive features of this spool cotton are that it is made from the very finest

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

It is finished soft as the cotton from which it is made it has no waxing or artificial finish to deceive the eyes it is the strongest, smoothest and most elastic sewing thread in the market, for machine sewing it has no equal It is wound on

WHITE SPOOLS.

The Black is the most perfect

JET BLACK

Ever produced in spool cotton being dyed by a system patented by ourselves The colors are dyed by the

NEW ANILINE PROCESS,

Rendering them so perfect and brilliant that dressmakers everywhere use them instead of sewing silks

We invite comparison and respectfully ask ladies to give it a fair trial and convince themselves of its superiority over all others

REMOVED. THE COMPOUND OXYGEN TREATMENT FOR THE CURE OF ALL CHRONIC DISEASES.

PROF REES has fitted up offices on corner of Yamhill and First Sts.—No. 174, Room 2.

COMPOUND OXYGEN DOES NOT CURE BY THE SUBSTITUTION OF ONE DISEASE FOR ANOTHER as when drugs are taken, but by an orderly process of revitalization. In the following list will be found the diseases which have proved the most amenable to Oxygen treatment: Consumption, Bronchitis, Laryngites Asthma. Dyspepsia in worst forms can be stopped with the Oxygen. Any fever can be stopped in 24 hours. Catarrh in the worst stages of the disease. Dyspepsia in every form, may be radically cured also Neuralgia, Nervous Headache, Scrofula, Paralysis and all Nervous Diseases.

PORTLAND Or , Jan 11, 1880 —This is to certify that I have tried all kinds of Patent Medicines which have failed as a cure in my case (I having a bad cold which had settled on my lungs), when I was induced to try Prof. Rees' Compound Oxygen Treatment, which had the desired effect in two days, and in five day treatment was completely restored to my sound health JOHN ROBERTSON.

PORTLAND Or Jan 13 1880 —Having taken treatment from Prof. Rees for a severe cold in the head, so bad that I could not breathe through my nostrils, and so severe on the lungs that I could not speak, when I was forced by friends to try the Compound Oxygen with very little faith, but the first inhalation made me breath freely, and I am convinced that it is the best and quickest method known for to cure disease and I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from a Cold or Catarrh in the head. G.A. FRANCIS.

The only Genuine Compound Oxygen from here to New York City, Beware of imitations.

HOME TREATMENT.—Can be safely sent any distance in a small and compact package. Price for treatment $15 00 Supply with with inhaling apparatus and full and explicit directions. 120

HALL VS RUSSELL

An Examination of the Recent Decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the Oregon Land Law

PORTLAND Jan 31 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

By the decision of the United States supreme court in the above case as announced by his honor Chief Justice Waite a large number of the decisions of our courts upon the donation law are reversed The chief justice says We conclude therefore that under section 4 there was no grant to a settler until he had qualified himself to take as a grantee by completing his four years of residence and cultivation and performing such other acts in the meantime as the statute required in order to protect his claim and keep it alive Down to that time he was an authorized settler on the public lands but not a grantee His rights in the land were statutory only and cannot be extended beyond the just interpretation of the language congress has used to make known its will

This is the strong language used by the chief justice to state the conclusion that the Oregon donation law was not a present grant or grant in præsenti as some have stated it but that it was a grant upon conditions precedent where no estate vested until the completion of all acts required by the law and that Loring or any settler who died upon his land and who had until his death complied with all the requirements of the act possessed no estate in the land unless his four years residence were completed This statement by the chief justice might not be dissented from without much hesitation and doubt were it not that in every court where a case has arisen thus far the decisions have been that the Oregon donation law was a present grant whereby the fee was vested in the settler immediately upon the commencement of his residence and cultivation, if begun after the passage of the act and at the date of its passage if previously begun and continued up to the date of its passage

Mr Justice Deady in Chapman vs School District (1 Deady, R 113 1865) says The donation law is a grant in the present, and gives the fee simple to every settler who avails himself of its provisions from the date of his settlement,(citing 12 How 76 11 Opinions 29) True until the completion of the subsequent conditions of residence and cultivation and proof thereof, it is an estate upon condition—what is known at common law as a base or conditional fee, subject to be defeated or lost by a failure to perform the conditions upon which it is held" In Lamb vs Davenport (1 Sawyer R 632) Mr Justice Sawyer says The terms of the act (the donation law) are terms of present grant. The grant was liable to be defeated by a failure to perform the conditions subsequent, but it was, nevertheless, a grant in præsenti,' and citing 16 Cal 296, and other authorities In Adams vs Burke, (3 Sawyer R 418), Mr Justice Field says ' The act is a grant in præsenti. Its language is ' that there shall be and hereby is granted' to the settler or occupant —language which imports an immediate transfer of the interest of the grantor, not a promise to transfer that interest at a future period But it is a grant, subject to the conditions of continued residence and cultivation of four years from the settlement, if these conditions had not already been performed on the passage of the act they were to be performed subsequently Until performed, the estate granted was defeasible, when performed the estate became indefeasible'" In Lee vs Summers, (2 Oregon Reports, 206-7,) Chief Justice Upton says, "The act (the donation law) is in words of present grant and actually conveyed to him (i e Summers, a settler) the legal title to the premises Citing Fremont vs United States, (17 How 559) When congress grants lands in words of present grant the legal title passes to the grantee," citing Wilson vs Jackson (13 Pet 499, 6 Cranch 128, 8 ib 244, 13 Pet 454, 2 Whea 198). "The cases just cited show that the title vests immediately in the donee, none the less because the title vests in him conditionally and subject to be defeated by his failure to comply with the law, nor because the boundaries are yet to be determined by survey" In Blakely vs. Caywood, (4 Or 287) Chief Justice Upton expressed the views of the supreme court of Oregon again as follows "By the operation of the donation act, the plaintiff's father acquired the land in fee, subject to the conditions specified in the act," and cited (9 Cal 554, 27 Cal. 87. In Dolph vs Barney (1874) Mr Justice McArthur, delivering the opinion of the supreme court of Oregon after citing numerous authorities, said "To the views of the character of the grant, as expressed in the opinions referred to, we yield our full assent, and hold the donation act to be a grant in præsenti of an estate in fee, subject to be defeated by non-compliance with the condition subsequent therein expressed."

The supreme court of the United States has itself recognized the distinction between present grants by congress and future grants; in fact the distinction, though old in the common law, was almost established in American jurisprudence by the decisions of the supreme court of the United States and by opinions of the U. S. attorneys general. The cases of Rutherford vs. Greene's heirs, (2 Whea.) decided in 1817, and Lessieur vs Price, (12 How.) and the opinions of the attorneys general are usually referred to by the courts, as early precedents in the history of American law, worthy of being followed. And in Schulenberg vs Harriman, (21 Wall, 60,) decided in 1874, the supreme court of the United States, per Mr. Justice Field, in referring to an act of congress of June 3d, 1856, says, "The language used imports a present grant, and admits of no other meaning The language of the first section is, 'that there be, and is hereby granted to the state of Wisconsin,' the lands designated * * * The title passed to the sections to be afterward located when the route was fixed their location became certain, and the title which was previously imperfect, acquired precision and became attached to the land." This was upon a statute making a grant to Wisconsin for the purpose of building a rail road and which contained a provision that if the road was not built in ten years, no further sales should be made and the land should revert to the United States. The ten years had elapsed without building the road, and the decision was regarding the right to timber upon the lands so granted, and the decision by the supreme court was that the act was a grant in præsenti, upon conditions subsequent In L R R vs. United States the same doctrine was promulgated by the supreme court of the United States, and Mr. Justice Davis, by whom the opinion of the court was delivered, in referring to an act of congress, said, "It creates an immediate interest and does not indicate a purpose to give in the future 'There be and is hereby granted' are words of absolute donation and import a grant in præsenti. This court has held that they can have no other meaning and the land department, on this interpretation of them has uniformly administered every previous similar grant, (citing R. R. vs. Smith, 9 Wall 95, Schulenberg vs Harriman 21 id , 60 , 1 Leste 518 , 8 Opin 257, 11 id 47) They vest a present title in the state of Kansas, though a survey of the lands and a location of the road are necessary to give precision to it and attach it to any particular tract"

While the authority of these decisions is recognized in the case of Hall et al vs Russell et al , an exception is found by the court in the Oregon donation law because even after residence and cultivation was begun by a settler, there still remained something to be done by him before his title became complete or indefeasible But not more so than in the last two named decisions where the court was unanimous in holding that the acts of congress were grants in præsenti. The granting clause of the Oregon donation law is 'that there shall be and hereby is granted' etc., and is identical with the same clauses in the two cases last above cited, although a different language is used by the donation law to express the conditions subsequent to be performed language differing from the cases cited as the conditions to be performed are different. It is a rule of the common law that where an estate vests upon conditions subsequent if the conditions become impossible by the act of God death the public enemy or in consequence of the acts of the grantor, the estate vests absolutely and indefeasibly (4 Kent Comm 130 2 Blacks, 156) While the court announced it as its duty to abide by the just interpretation of the language congress has used to make known its will it says it attaches no special importance to the word descend as used in section 8 of the donation law Why? Does that word in its place where used and with all the meaning belonging to it as a law term and as defined by courts for the past three hundred years and upwards conflict with any other provision of the [illegible] on law? Not at all Does the word rights in a statute and particularly when referring to lands import less than the very highest rights? Is not the term rights more ordinarily used in statutes to express the meaning title than even the word title is used? Why attach no special importance to the use of the word descend and find so much solace in the use of the term rights used instead of land when rights includes the title to land?

When the decisions of the courts for a long period of time upon a point of law settle [illegible] they have become as matters of common learning to laymen, are overturned the confidence of all classes in the community is shaken

In financial circles the volume of business is not large, though the confidence which is felt in the future is inducing a considerable inquiry for funds with which to conduct future operations. While there appears to be an ample supply of capital for all extensive enterprises and deposits are on quite as large a scale as usual the amount of money in general circulation is not great and the regular collections are reported as slow There has been little doing so far since the holidays to require any extensive or general disbursements a fact which accounts for the difficulty complained of by collectors The works which have been retarded and the business which has been prevented by the bad weather will begin in earnest in a few weeks more and the flush times so long waited for will as is confidently predicted set in

In the local market the same quietude noticed so frequently of late is still observable Wheat buyers, as a general thing are doing very little except in the case of those who have vessels at hand to load and have not as yet secured cargoes There is perhaps more wheat in sight than would load the ships now in port under charter, but some of it is held so much above the views of shippers that they are disposed to look about for parcels the holders of which are willing to make a concession Both San Francisco and Liverpool as will be seen report a weakening tendency and some disposition in same direction is noticed in the home market more observable however in the disinclination of buyers to operate at all than in any reduction in rates as established by transactions. While buyers will not quote above $1 82½@1 85, holders are loth to accept these figures having confidence in the improvement of the market at no distant day in the future

Aside from the 'deal' in grain which is in progress in the eastern states, there are no features of great importance in the markets The advance which has been made on about all other classes of goods is now being talked of on dry goods and nearly all cotton and woolen fabrics will be marked up from 10 to 20 per cent upon the opening of spring stocks Finer goods in the same line will move in the same direction.

THE MARK LANE REPORT.

Review of the English Grain Market for the Past Week—Condition of Growing Crops.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

LONDON Feb 3—The Mark Lane Express review of the British grain trade for the past week says Severe frost has again stopped all agricultural work and canal navigation and has seriously impeded the unloading of vessels whilst fogs have checked business.

Growing wheat has made no apparent progress and in many fields it has not appeared above the ground It is feared that this renewal of frost will be a severe trial on autumn sown grain A great deal of land is yet unplowed.

There is little alteration in the quality or condition of English grain sent to market, which is still in a damp and defective condition. Owing to this fact and an increased pressure to sell on the part of farmers, there was a decline of two shillings per quarter last Monday which has not since been recovered, nearly all the influences, now dominant in the market, having remained inside of buyers.

Imports have been on a tolerably liberal scale for mid winter Shipments from India and South ern Russia are coming to hand pretty freely This excess of supply over demand, coupled with a rapid fall of prices in America, caused a decline of a shilling per quarter

Business during the week has been marked by a good deal of indecision, despite the inclination of holders in consequence of a further increase in the visible supply in America to accept lower prices. Buyers operated very cautiously. Though American prices are now reduced to a level with those ruling in this country a further reduction is required, as without some margin of profit importers can scarcely be expected to operate

Feeding stuffs were quiet the only noteworthy change being an advance in maize, of a shilling per quarter, owing to its decided scarcity on the spot.

The arrivals at ports of call have been small although only a moderate business has been done

Red winter wheats have shown rather a firmer tendency Ghirkas improved about a shilling per quarter Maize with a few transactions maintained late rates. Wheat for shipment is very inactive and buyers seem quite indifferent to speculative fluctuations cabled from America.

The sales of English wheat last week were 84 852 quarters at 45s 3d per quarter, against 55,831 quarters at 38s 4d per quarter for the corresponding week of last year Imports into United Kingdom during the week ending Jan 24 were 744,356 hundred weights of wheat and 238 884 hundred weights of flour

Easy as it is to be sick just so easy is it to be well by availing yourself of the opportunity that is now offered to the sick by

DR. D. HALL McLENNAN,

Professor of Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System formerly of Halleck's Medical Institute Boston Mass now permanently located at corner of Second and Ash streets Portland Oregon two blocks from O S N Co's landing at foot of Ash st

DR McLENNAN has by his unwearied labor and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice And without boasting, he can say, that probably no other physician on the Pacific Coast is treating at the present time so many cases of chronic diseases The development of important and superior remedies and modes of cure have enabled him to succeed in thousands of cases where others have failed The unparalleled success with which Dr McLennan has treated difficult and the so called incurable cases goes to show that no one should give up in despair, simply on the assertion of one two or three physicians who had failed to effect a cure It is with the hope of reaching many of this class that I advertise and not alone from the profit it may deservedly yield me but for the real satisfaction of doing good relieving the pains of humanity and sending hope to the hearts of thousands of afflicted fellow creatures who are enduring great suffering under the erroneous impression that they are beyond human skill These I am resolved, shall hear of me and realize the truth of the saying that while there is life there is hope

Startling Weakness of Men and Women,

From whatever cause produced permanently and radically cured in three to six weeks—a radical change for the better noticed in three days Old men made young and young men restored to the vigor of manhood To those who are suffering I advise them to try me in doing so they will call that day blessed The greatest secrecy observed Names of such patients are not published and only referred to by permission and by calling at my office If you are suffering from any chronic disease and you doctor or doctors have failed to cure you I respectfully invite you to consult me it will cost you nothing By my new system of treatment I am constantly relieving cases in which other methods utterly fail Physicians having in charge cases that baffle their skill or resist the ordinary treatment will confer a blessing on such by sending them to my Medical Institution occupying the two story building on the northeast corner of Second and Ash streets

Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded Letters plainly written with full particulars containing a stamped addressed envelope will be promptly answered

Flattering Indorsement.

From a lady well and favorably known in Portland cured by Dr McLennan after hope of recovery had been abandoned

WASHINGTON D C —I am entirely well and feel no more of that weakness that troubled me for years and for which I was unable to get relief until you brought me to Dr McLennan's He has done more for me than all the other physicians put together and that too in so short a time

MRS MAJOR BELL

Any information regarding this remarkable cure will be furnished by her mother (Mrs. Edgar) who lives at Room No 2 Bacon's building Second St between Oak and Stark Portland

Another Remarkable Cure

Was the case of O P Mason who suffered for years with a weak and lame back during that period could find no relief was cured by Dr McLennan in ten minutes

NOTE —Mr Mason is well and favorably known to all citizens of Portland as one of our most successful lawyers His office is 141 First street, and can verify this statement for himself

Success the Test of Merit—Another Remarkable Cure.

This is to certify that Dr McLennan cured me of consumption and catarrh, after Drs. Oliver and Hatch of Astoria had pronounced my case beyond medical aid and advised me to come to Portland and go to the hospital I came to Portland but did not go to the hospital a friend who met me here advised me to go to Dr McLennan This was two months ago I was then continually coughing up blood and matter I have coughed none for five weeks and am fleshing up every day I now live at 43 Stark street but my home is in Astoria If anybody writes to me concerning my cure I will answer the same

Respectfully E R DAILY

The following parties whose names and addresses are given below can be consulted in reference to Dr McLennan's great success They have all been the victims of wrong doctoring and never found relief much less a cure until Dr McLennan's treated them Mrs. Daniel Cline Scappoose Oregon [illegible] gained 13 pounds in two months under Dr McLennan's treatment She says I haven't felt so well for three years as I have the last two months

NORTHERN PACIFIC [illegible]

LANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly

5 000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division in Eastern Oregon which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River in Washington Territory to Lake Pen d'Oreille in Idaho These lands of unexcelled fertility and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation causing a rapid growth in population of the country and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company passed November 19th 1879 fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company This is just cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the preemption law for the expense attending the making of final proof and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company

Resolved That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands, nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privilege shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road.

To persons wishing to purchase on time the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms One fourth cash at time of purchase the balance in three equal yearly payments at 7 per cent interest. The above price or time sales is adopted for the present, but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase, or Settlers' Applications, as they are called for lands in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the and applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment or time contract for the same For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for, have no right to the first privilege of purchase such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale to more Settlers Applications will be filed All communications respecting land in the following described townships—

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE EFfects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity DR SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color will be of a thin milkish hue again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr S will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs
